Home Blog Zero Waste 48 Eco Friendly Products You Can Buy Today to Help Stop Plastic Pollution 48 Eco Friendly Products You Can Buy Today to Help Stop Plastic Pollution ZERO WASTE FEATURED 20 Jan, 2024 To say plastic pollution is a widespread problem is not doing it justice: Only about 9% of all plastic ever made has likely been recycled with 12% of all plastic waste having been incinerated. The remaining 79% has accumulated in either landfill or the natural environment if not still in use. One million seabirds and 100,000 marine mammals die each year from plastic pollution in our oceans. In one study by the U.S. Centres for Disease Control, nearly 93 percent of people tested positive for BPA (a potentially harmful chemical present in plastic products). Think the problem is too big for you to make an impact? Think again. We put together this list of eco friendly products to show you just how easy it can be to replace some of the plastic products you buy and support those making products out of recycled plastic. By replacing them, you can virtually eliminate your single use plastic waste in that area. By purchasing recycled plastic products you are helping to close the loop of the circular economy. One of the best ways to fight plastic pollution is to live by example and ensure the products you buy are produced with both ethics and the environment in mind. Also, don't forget to share the journey with your friends and family. The more friends you convince, the more people you share articles like this one with, the more people will begin using environmentally friendly products in their everyday lives, and that is how we change the world. Scroll down to see where you can make some simple changes with eco-friendly products that can have big impacts on your environmental footprint.

2. Vegan Leather Tote Some of the world's top fashion houses are now replacing animal leathers with vegan leathers made from fruit. Many people believe the leather industry is a by-product of the meat industry, but it's not. Most leather is processed in countries where there are little or no welfare laws for animals (or humans that make the leather, who are often subjected to toxic chemicals from the tanning process, which then go into the water supplies, and harm marine wildlife too). This apple skin tote is a vibrant beautiful urban shopper, which is lightweight but strong enough to hold a laptop. vegan leathers (made from fruit!) - blessed earth gifts

3. Toilet Paper Who Gives a Crap? sells extra-cushy 3-ply bamboo bathroom tissue in colourful paper packs. The co-founder (after learning that 800 children under 5 die daily from diseases caused by poor water and sanitation) decided to set this company up with his friends, donating 50% of profits to provide clean sanitation in developing countries. For the crowdfunding campaign, he sat on a toilet in their draughty warehouse and refused to move, until they raised enough pre-orders to start production. It took 50 hours, but they did it! 4. Sustainable watches The Sustainable Watch Company (England) is one of the most eco-friendly watch companies around. All watches are handmade from recycled furniture wood, in a variety of styles. This climate-positive business offsets carbon with every order, and plants 10 trees for each watch sold, which is also sent in beautiful zero-waste packaging. The watch straps (all vegan-friendly) are also made from recycled wood and you can choose to buy just the straps, if you already own a watch. Check Out Anipal's Collection

5. Wombat Steel Kitchen Compost Bin Collecting food scraps and composting is made easy! Made from sturdy steel, this compost bin also features a built-in charcoal filter on the underside of the lid. The filter allows air to pass into the bin, keeping food scraps odour-free and preventing them from sweating and becoming slimy. The Wombat Compost Bin is the perfect size for your kitchen counter or under the sink for easy access and can be used in small apartments, bathrooms, vans or caravans. Stainless Steel Drink Bottles Did You Know? Every minute, around the globe, humans purchase a staggering one million plastic bottles. This vast consumption isn't only financially costly with bottled water being an expensive choice, but it also exacts a terrible toll on our environment. Beyond the environmental impact, plastic and aluminum bottles pose potential health risks, often due to chemicals like BPA that can seep into your water. Drinking enough water is essential for our well-being. But how you choose to drink it matters. The Onya Stainless Steel Drink Bottle stands out as a beacon of sustainable and healthy hydration. Made from food-grade 304 stainless steel - the trusted material within the food and beverage industries - our bottles are built without the need for linings and will never retain or leach flavours. Regardless of the number of refills or the beverage choice, your drink remains fresh and delightful. The design of our drink bottle takes into consideration both function and form. Its curved ergonomic design ensures a comfortable grip, reducing the chances of slips. Yet, even if it does encounter a fall, the bottle's engineering is crafted to withstand common impacts. Crafted from the thickest possible grade of stainless steel, it offers durability without the burden of weight, aiming to serve you for years to come. Drinkware - Onya 26. HoneyBee Wraps Australian Made and owned Honeybee wraps use an antibacterial blend of ingredients. These are the thickest, longest-lasting wraps on the market. Oceanzen Every year around 640, 000 tonnes of 'ghost fishing gear' enter our ocean and become adrift. These can stay in the ocean for up to 600 years and are the silent killers of our marine life. Whales, seals, sharks, dolphins, turtles and so many more precious marine species are subject to suffocation and slow, painful deaths. In 2014, Oceanzen pioneered the use of a revolutionary fabric that supports the removal of marine debris from our oceans. They manufacture sustainable swimwear made of nylon waste such as recycled plastic bottles and fishing nets that have been recovered from our oceans and recycled. By regenerating waste, they're not only making it new again but saving a whole heap of precious, finite resources and energy whilst also reducing carbon emissions. OceanZen 42. We've all seen the evidence in our climate and in disturbing images from across the globe all over the news. The question is: what can we do about it? The key to tackling climate change is both macro and micro. It's important that we, as individuals, take up the cause just as strongly as governments and corporations could and should. That's where Onya and our reusable products come in. We understand what it means to live responsibly in a modern world and apply those principles to all aspects of our business and in our daily lives. In order to make the changes we want to see happen, we know the key to success is finding ways of adjusting your habits in a way that complements your current lifestyle. Habits won't stick if they require a drastic change in behaviour so Onya began with a simple mission; Create innovative, environmentally friendly solutions that easily fit into your life. We are here to bring you solutions that make a difference, right to your doorstep. Australian based Onya has been offering the world innovative solutions to single use plastic waste since 2004. What is the problem? How do we fix it? The big problem, as we all know, is the long-term increase of the Earth's temperature. We humans have been wreaking havoc on our atmosphere for a long time, and now our chickens are well and truly home to roost. Plastic is littering our oceans; our landfill is land-filled, and we throw away more and more each year. We can all lessen our impact with a simple approach. The six 'R's we live our lives by are: Refuse, Reduce, Reuse, Repair, Recycle and Rot. If we can try and keep these principles in mind when making daily decisions, then we can start making a positive impact on our surroundings. Onya goes that one step further. We are a B Corp certified company which, put plainly, means we have an obligation to meet the very highest of social and environmental standards. B Corps balance their profit with their purpose so that you, the consumer, know that your dollars do good. We partner with only those who match our ethical commitments to ensure that we bring you products manufactured the right way. Ethically made in China, our produce ranges are made by companies whose values echo our own and we have been working with them for many years. Every partner we work with is approved as socially and environmentally conscious. We prioritise proper workers' rights, community impact, environmental credentials and, of course, you, our customer.

The remaining 79% has accumulated in either landfill or the natural environment if not still in use. One million seabirds and 100,000 marine mammals die each year from plastic pollution in our oceans. In one study by the U.S. Centres for Disease Control, nearly 93 percent of people tested positive for BPA (a potentially harmful chemical present in plastic products). Think the problem is too big for you to make an impact? Think again.

We put together this list of eco friendly products to show you just how easy it can be to replace some of the plastic products you buy and support those making products out of recycled plastic. By replacing them, you can virtually eliminate your single use plastic waste in that area. By purchasing recycled plastic products you are helping to close the loop of the circular economy. One of the best ways to fight plastic pollution is to live by example and ensure the products you buy are produced with both ethics and the environment in mind. Also, don't forget to share the journey with your friends and family. The more friends you convince, the more people you share articles like this one with, the more people will begin using environmentally friendly products in their everyday lives, and that is how we change the world. Scroll down to see where you can make some simple changes with eco-friendly products that can have big impacts on your environmental footprint.

2. Vegan Leather Tote Some of the world's top fashion houses are now replacing animal leathers with vegan leathers made from fruit. Many people believe the leather industry is a by-product of the meat industry, but it's not. Most leather is processed in countries where there are little or no welfare laws for animals (or humans that make the leather, who are often subjected to toxic chemicals from the tanning process, which then go into the water supplies, and harm marine wildlife too). This apple skin tote is a vibrant beautiful urban shopper, which is lightweight but strong enough to hold a laptop. vegan leathers (made from fruit!) - blessed earth gifts

3. Toilet Paper Who Gives a Crap? sells extra-cushy 3-ply bamboo bathroom tissue in colourful paper packs. The co-founder (after learning that 800 children under 5 die daily from diseases caused by poor water and sanitation) decided to set this company up with his friends, donating 50% of profits to provide clean sanitation in developing countries. For the crowdfunding campaign, he sat on a toilet in their draughty warehouse and refused to move, until they raised enough pre-orders to start production. It took 50 hours, but they did it! All watches are handmade from recycled furniture wood, in a variety of styles. This climate-positive business offsets carbon with every order, and plants 10 trees for each watch sold, which is also sent in beautiful zero-waste packaging. The watch straps (all vegan-friendly) are also made from recycled wood and you can choose to buy just the straps, if you already own a watch. Check Out Anipal's Collection 5. Wombat Steel Kitchen Compost Bin Collecting food scraps and composting is made easy! Made from sturdy steel, this compost bin also features a built-in charcoal filter on the underside of the lid. The filter allows air to pass into the bin, keeping food scraps odour-free and preventing them from sweating and becoming slimy. The Wombat Compost Bin is the perfect size for your kitchen counter or under the sink for easy access and can be used in small apartments, bathrooms, vans or caravans. Wombat Steel Kitchen Compost Bin 6. The Carry-on closet A patented Five-Shelf Shelving System with an easily accessible USB charging port, frictionless wheels, a three-digit lock and an unbreakable polycarbonate shell with an aluminum frame combine to make the Carry-On Closet the perfect suitcase. It cleans up 2.7 kilos of ocean-bound plastic from coastal communities, and its interior Shore-Tex® lining is made from 100% recycled plastic. Carry-on Closet Solgaard 7. The Happy Sparrow Silk Dental Floss The Happy Sparrow Dental Floss packed in a refillable stainless steel container is the toughest eco-friendly natural dental floss on the market. The floss is made from 100% mulberry silk and gives superior performance to polyester or bamboo / polyester blend flosses which are prone to breaking. It's packed in a stainless steel jar with a stainless steel lid. Refill packs are available. The Happy Sparrow Silk Dental Floss 8. Modibodi period underwear Modibodi is an Australian company making beautiful, comfortable, scientifically supported underwear to protect women against sweat, light bladder leaks, period overflow and spotting. Stainless Steel Drink Bottles Did You Know? Every minute, around the globe, humans purchase a staggering one million plastic bottles. This vast consumption isn't only financially costly with bottled water being an expensive choice, but it also exacts a terrible toll on our environment. Beyond the environmental impact, plastic and aluminum bottles pose potential health risks, often due to chemicals like BPA that can seep into your water. Drinking enough water is essential for our well-being. But how you choose to drink it matters. The Onya Stainless Steel Drink Bottle stands out as a beacon of sustainable and healthy hydration. Made from food-grade 304 stainless steel - the trusted material within the food and beverage industries - our bottles are built without the need for linings and will never retain or leach flavours. Regardless of the number of refills or the beverage choice, your drink remains fresh and delightful. The design of our drink bottle takes into consideration both function and form. Its curved ergonomic design ensures a comfortable grip, reducing the chances of slips. Yet, even if it does encounter a fall, the bottle's engineering is crafted to withstand common impacts. Crafted from the thickest possible grade of stainless steel, it offers durability without the burden of weight, aiming to serve you for years to come. Drinkware - Onya 26. HoneyBee Wraps Australian Made and owned Honeybee wraps use an antibacterial blend of ingredients. These are the thickest, longest-lasting wraps on the market. 41. Oceanzen Every year around 640, 000 tonnes of 'ghost fishing gear' enter our ocean and become adrift. These can stay in the ocean for up to 600 years and are the silent killers of our marine life. Whales, seals, sharks, dolphins, turtles and so many more precious marine species are subject to suffocation and slow, painful deaths. In 2014, Oceanzen pioneered the use of a revolutionary fabric that supports the removal of marine debris from our oceans. They manufacture sustainable swimwear made of nylon waste such as recycled plastic bottles and fishing nets that have been recovered from our oceans and recycled. By regenerating waste, they're not only making it new again but saving a whole heap of precious, finite resources and energy whilst also reducing carbon emissions. OceanZen 42. The Very Good Bra Fashion with purpose, where each piece not only resonates with the environment's rhythm but also offers a beautiful and well-fitting silhouette. Rise up from the rest and be part of the Etiko fashion revolution that prioritises people and the planet above all else. Etiko means ethical, and it's time for all to 'walk the talk'. Etiko | Australia's Most Ethical Clothing Brand | Fair Trade Certified 46. Tactica This Australian brand offers the M.100 multi-tool made from a composite material derived from recycled materials. It's compact, lightweight, and incredibly versatile for everyday tasks. With 17 Tools in one lightweight package, you're prepared for anything with the ultimate in Everyday Carry. Features a magnetic screwdriver, wrenches, a box opener and more. Tactica 47. Seljak blankets Seljak work with a range of suppliers in Australia and Europe to weave recycled wool blankets that are recyclable at the end of their useful life. The award-winning blankets are made from factory floor offcuts, deadstock yarn, or post-consumer textiles waste like old woollen jumpers. Recycling wool is important because it's too precious to throw in the bin. Wool is a natural fibre that is incredibly hard to replicate – it's a renewable resource, it is odour and stain resistant, antibacterial, lightweight, breathable and insulating. After your blanket has enjoyed a long, adventurous life, you can post it back to them for recycling in exchange for a $40 discount off your next Seljak Brand blanket. + Everyday items for the Eco Warrior: Where to find the best eco friendly products to reduce plastic waste

The single most important issue facing modern humanity is climate change. We've all seen the evidence in our climate and in disturbing images from across the globe all over the news. The question is: what can we do about it? The key to tackling climate change is both macro and micro. It's important that we, as individuals, take up the cause just as strongly as governments and corporations could and should. That's where Onya and our reusable products come in. We understand what it means to live responsibly in a modern world and apply those principles to all aspects of our business and in our daily lives. In order to make the changes we want to see happen, we know the key to success is finding ways of adjusting your habits in a way that complements your current lifestyle. Habits won't stick if they require a drastic change in behaviour so Onya began with a simple mission; Create innovative, environmentally friendly solutions that easily fit into your life. We are here to bring you solutions that make a difference, right to your doorstep. Australian based Onya has been offering the world innovative solutions to single use plastic waste since 2004. What is the problem? How do we fix it? The big problem, as we all know, is the long-term increase of the Earth's temperature. We humans have been wreaking havoc on our atmosphere for a long time, and now our chickens are well and truly home to roost. Plastic is littering our oceans; our landfill is land-filled, and we throw away more and more each year. We can all lessen our impact with a simple approach. The six 'R's we live our lives by are: Refuse, Reduce, Reuse, Repair, Recycle and Rot. If we can try and keep these principles in mind when making daily decisions, then we can start making a positive impact on our surroundings. Onya goes that one step further. We are a B Corp certified company which, put plainly, means we have an obligation to meet the very highest of social and environmental standards. B Corps balance their profit with their purpose so that you, the consumer, know that your dollars do good. We partner with only those who match our ethical commitments to ensure that we bring you products manufactured the right way. Ethically made in China, our produce ranges are made by companies whose values echo our own and we have been working with them for many years. Every partner we work with is approved as socially and environmentally conscious. We prioritise proper workers' rights, community impact, environmental credentials and, of course, you, our customer.

The remaining 79% has accumulated in either landfill or the natural environment if not still in use. One million seabirds and 100,000 marine mammals die each year from plastic pollution in our oceans. In one study by the U.S. Centres for Disease Control, nearly 93 percent of people tested positive for BPA (a potentially harmful chemical present in plastic products). Think the problem is too big for you to make an impact? Think again. We put together this list of eco friendly products to show you just how easy it can be to replace some of the plastic products you buy and support those making products out of recycled plastic. By replacing them, you can virtually eliminate your single use plastic waste in that area. By purchasing recycled plastic products you are helping to close the loop of the circular economy. One of the best ways to fight plastic pollution is to live by example and ensure the products you buy are produced with both ethics and the environment in mind. Also, don't forget to share the journey with your friends and family. The more friends you convince, the more people you share articles like this one with, the more people will begin using environmentally friendly products in their everyday lives, and that is how we change the world. Scroll down to see where you can make some simple changes with eco-friendly products that can have big impacts on your environmental footprint.

Vegan Leather Tote Some of the world's top fashion houses are now replacing animal leathers with vegan leathers made from fruit. Many people believe the leather industry is a by-product of the meat industry, but it's not. Most leather is processed in countries where there are little or no welfare laws for animals (or humans that make the leather, who are often subjected to toxic chemicals from the tanning process, which then go into the water supplies, and harm marine wildlife too). This apple skin tote is a vibrant beautiful urban shopper, which is lightweight but strong enough to hold a laptop. vegan leathers (made from fruit!) - blessed earth gifts

3. Toilet Paper Who Gives a Crap? sells extra-cushy 3-ply bamboo bathroom tissue in colourful paper packs. The co-founder (after learning that 800 children under 5 die daily from diseases caused by poor water and sanitation) decided to set this company up with his friends, donating 50% of profits to provide clean sanitation in developing countries. For the crowdfunding campaign, he sat on a toilet in their draughty warehouse and refused to move, until they raised enough pre-orders to start production. It took 50 hours, but they did it! Toilet paper that builds toilets | Who Gives A Crap Australia

4. Sustainable watches The Sustainable Watch Company (England) is one of the most eco-friendly watch companies around. All watches are handmade from recycled furniture wood, in a variety of styles. This climate-positive business offsets carbon with every order, and plants 10 trees for each watch sold, which is also sent in beautiful zero-waste packaging. The watch straps (all vegan-friendly) are also made from recycled wood and you can choose to buy just the straps, if you already own a watch. Check Out Anipal's Collection

5. Wombat Steel Kitchen Compost Bin Collecting food scraps and composting is made easy! Made from sturdy steel, this compost bin also features a built-in charcoal filter on the underside of the lid. The filter allows air to pass into the bin, keeping food scraps odour-free and preventing them from sweating and becoming slimy. The Wombat Compost Bin is the perfect size for your kitchen counter or under the sink for easy access and can be used in small apartments, bathrooms, vans or caravans. Wombat Steel Kitchen Compost Bin

6. The Carry-on closet A patented Five-Shelf Shelving System with an easily accessible USB charging port, frictionless wheels, a three-digit lock and an unbreakable polycarbonate shell with an aluminum frame combine to make the Carry-On Closet the perfect suitcase. It cleans up 2.7 kilos of ocean-bound plastic from coastal communities, and its interior Shore-Tex® lining is made from 100% recycled plastic. Carry-on Closet Solgaard 7. The Happy Sparrow Silk Dental Floss The Happy Sparrow Dental Floss packed in a refillable stainless steel container is the toughest eco-friendly natural dental floss on the market. The floss is made from 100% mulberry silk and gives superior performance to polyester or bamboo / polyester blend flosses which are prone to breaking. It's packed in a stainless steel jar with a stainless steel lid. Refill packs are available. The Happy Sparrow Silk Dental Floss 8. Modibodi period underwear Modibodi is an Australian company making beautiful, comfortable, scientifically supported underwear to protect women against sweat, light bladder leaks, period overflow and spotting. Modibodi's period underwear technology uses a high quality, fibre blend including Bamboo and Merino Wool to produce their light leakage and period underwear. Afends clothing The fashion industry is the second largest polluter in the world. The environmental damage that it causes is devastating, but we believe there are solutions and alternatives to these issues. Considered an environmental super fibre, Hemp is one of the most durable and economically viable all-natural threads. The Afends Hemp Revolution is their way of promoting sustainability to consumers as well as the surf and fashion industries. The fashion industry alone is one of the biggest contributors of pesticides worldwide mainly due to cotton farming. Check Out Afends Official - Byron Bay Clothing & Fashion Label 12. Stainless Steel Drink Bottles Did You Know? Every minute, around the globe, humans purchase a staggering one million plastic bottles. This vast consumption isn't only financially costly with bottled water being an expensive choice, but it also exacts a terrible toll on our environment. Beyond the environmental impact, plastic and aluminum bottles pose potential health risks, often due to chemicals like BPA that can seep into your water. Drinking enough water is essential for our well-being. But how you choose to drink it matters. The Onya Stainless Steel Drink Bottle stands out as a beacon of sustainable and healthy hydration. Made from food-grade 304 stainless steel - the trusted material within the food and beverage industries - our bottles are built without the need for linings and will never retain or leach flavours. Regardless of the number of refills or the beverage choice, your drink remains fresh and delightful. The design of our drink bottle takes into consideration both function and form. Its curved ergonomic design ensures a comfortable grip, reducing the chances of slips. Yet, even if it does encounter a fall, the bottle's engineering is crafted to withstand common impacts. Crafted from the thickest possible grade of stainless steel, it offers durability without the burden of weight, aiming to serve you for years to come. Drinkware - Onya 26. HoneyBee Wraps Australian Made and owned Honeybee wraps use an antibacterial blend of ingredients. These are the thickest, longest-lasting wraps on the market. Oceanzen Every year around 640, 000 tonnes of 'ghost fishing gear' enter our ocean and become adrift. These can stay in the ocean for up to 600 years and are the silent killers of our marine life. Whales, seals, sharks, dolphins, turtles and so many more precious marine species are subject to suffocation and slow, painful deaths. In 2014, Oceanzen pioneered the use of a revolutionary fabric that supports the removal of marine debris from our oceans. They manufacture sustainable swimwear made of nylon waste such as recycled plastic bottles and fishing nets that have been recovered from our oceans and recycled. By regenerating waste, they're not only making it new again but saving a whole heap of precious, finite resources and energy whilst also reducing carbon emissions. OceanZen 42. + Everyday items for the Eco Warrior: Where to find the best eco friendly products to reduce plastic waste

The single most important issue facing modern humanity is climate change. We've all seen the evidence in our climate and in disturbing images from across the globe all over the news. The question is: what can we do about it? The key to tackling climate change is both macro and micro. It's important that we, as individuals, take up the cause just as strongly as governments and corporations could and should. That's where Onya and our reusable products come in. We understand what it means to live responsibly in a modern world and apply those principles to all aspects of our business and in our daily lives. In order to make the changes we want to see happen, we know the key to success is finding ways of adjusting your habits in a way that complements your current lifestyle. Habits won't stick if they require a drastic change in behaviour so Onya began with a simple mission; Create innovative, environmentally friendly solutions that easily fit into your life. We are here to bring you solutions that make a difference, right to your doorstep. Australian based Onya has been offering the world innovative solutions to single use plastic waste since 2004. What is the problem? How do we fix it? The big problem, as we all know, is the long-term increase of the Earth's temperature. We humans have been wreaking havoc on our atmosphere for a long time, and now our chickens are well and truly home to roost. Plastic is littering our oceans; our landfill is land-filled, and we throw away more and more each year. We can all lessen our impact with a simple approach. The six 'R's we live our lives by are: Refuse, Reduce, Reuse, Repair, Recycle and Rot. If we can try and keep these principles in mind when making daily decisions, then we can start making a positive impact on our surroundings. Onya goes that one step further. We are a B Corp certified company which, put plainly, means we have an obligation to meet the very highest of social and environmental standards. B Corps balance their profit with their purpose so that you, the consumer, know that your dollars do good. We partner with only those who match our ethical commitments to ensure that we bring you products manufactured the right way. Ethically made in China, our produce ranges are made by companies whose values echo our own and we have been working with them for many years. Every partner we work with is approved as socially and environmentally conscious. We prioritise proper workers' rights, community impact, environmental credentials and, of course, you, our customer.

Sign In ZERO WASTE FEATURED 20 Jan, 2024 ZERO WASTE FEATURED ZERO WASTE FEATURED 20 Jan, 2024 To say plastic pollution is a widespread problem is not doing it justice: Only about 9% of all plastic ever made has likely been recycled with 12% of all plastic waste having been incinerated. The remaining 79% has accumulated in either landfill or the natural environment if not still in use. One million seabirds and 100,000 marine mammals die each year from plastic pollution in our oceans. In one study by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control, nearly 93 percent of people tested positive for BPA (a potentially harmful chemical present in plastic products). Think the problem is too big for you to make an impact? Think again. We put together this list of eco friendly products to show you just how easy it can be to replace some of the plastic products you buy and support those making products out of recycled plastic. By replacing them, you can virtually eliminate your single use plastic waste in that area. By purchasing recycled plastic products you are helping to close the loop of the circular economy. One of the best ways to fight plastic pollution is to live by example and ensure the products you buy are produced with both ethics and the environment in mind. Also, don't forget to share the journey with your friends and family. The more friends you convince, the more people you share articles like this one with, the more people will begin using environmentally friendly products in their everyday lives, and that is how we change the world. Scroll down to see where you can make some simple changes with eco-friendly products that can have big impacts on your environmental footprint.

2. Vegan Leather Tote Some of the world's top fashion houses are now replacing animal leathers with vegan leathers made from fruit. Many people believe the leather industry is a by-product of the meat industry, but it's not. Most leather is processed in countries where there are little or no welfare laws for animals (or humans that make the leather, who are often subjected to toxic chemicals from the tanning process, which then go into the water supplies, and harm marine wildlife too). This apple skin tote is a vibrant beautiful urban shopper, which is lightweight but strong enough to hold a laptop. vegan leathers (made from fruit!) - blessed earth gifts

3. Toilet Paper Who Gives a Crap? sells extra-cushy 3-ply bamboo bathroom tissue in colourful paper packs. The co-founder (after learning that 800 children under 5 die daily from diseases caused by poor water and sanitation) decided to set this company up with his friends, donating 50% of profits to provide clean sanitation in developing countries. For the crowdfunding campaign, he sat on a toilet in their draughty warehouse and refused to move, until they raised enough pre-orders to start production. It took 50 hours, but they did it! All watches are handmade from recycled furniture wood, in a variety of styles. This climate-positive business offsets carbon with every order, and plants 10 trees for each watch sold, which is also sent in beautiful zero-waste packaging. The watch straps (all vegan-friendly) are also made from recycled wood and you can choose to buy just the straps, if you already own a watch. Check Out Anipal's Collection 5. Wombat Steel Kitchen Compost Bin Collecting food scraps and composting is made easy! Made from sturdy steel, this compost bin also features a built-in charcoal filter on the underside of the lid. The filter allows air to pass into the bin, keeping food scraps odour-free and preventing them from sweating and becoming slimy. The Wombat Compost Bin is the perfect size for your kitchen counter or under the sink for easy access and can be used in small apartments, bathrooms, vans or caravans. Stainless Steel Drink Bottles Did You Know? Every minute, around the globe, humans purchase a staggering one million plastic bottles. This vast consumption isn't only financially costly with bottled water being an expensive choice, but it also exacts a terrible toll on our environment. Beyond the environmental impact, plastic and aluminum bottles pose potential health risks, often due to chemicals like BPA that can seep into your water. Drinking enough water is essential for our well-being. But how you choose to drink it matters. The Onya Stainless Steel Drink Bottle stands out as a beacon of sustainable and healthy hydration. Made from food-grade 304 stainless steel - the trusted material within the food and beverage industries - our bottles are built without the need for linings and will never retain or leach flavours. Regardless of the number of refills or the beverage choice, your drink remains fresh and delightful. The design of our drink bottle takes into consideration both function and form. Its curved ergonomic design ensures a comfortable grip, reducing the chances of slips. Yet, even if it does encounter a fall, the bottle's engineering is crafted to withstand common impacts. Crafted from the thickest possible grade of stainless steel, it offers durability without the burden of weight, aiming to serve you for years to come. Drinkware - Onya 26. HoneyBee Wraps

41. Oceanzen Every year around 640, 000 tonnes of 'ghost fishing gear' enter our ocean and become adrift. These can stay in the ocean for up to 600 years and are the silent killers of our marine life. Whales, seals, sharks, dolphins, turtles and so many more precious marine species are subject to suffocation and slow, painful deaths. In 2014, Oceanzen pioneered the use of a revolutionary fabric that supports the removal of marine debris from our oceans. They manufacture sustainable swimwear made of nylon waste such as recycled plastic bottles and fishing nets that have been recovered from our oceans and recycled. By regenerating waste, they're not only making it new again but saving a whole heap of precious, finite resources and energy whilst also reducing carbon emissions. OceanZen 42. The Very Good Bra Fashion with purpose, where each piece not only resonates with the environment's rhythm but also offers a beautiful and well-fitting silhouette. Garments, from the soft touch of organic cotton to the silky embrace of tencel, combine style with a commitment to a toxin-free, synthetic-free ethos. Shunning harmful toxins and synthetics, omitting spandex, polyester, and nylon. The entire range, from elastics to labels, enriches the soil upon disposal, rather than polluting it. A steadfast commitment to a plastic-free world. No animal products in the manufacturing process, ensuring compassion in every stitch. Material features include organic cotton from Turkey, dyed in Melbourne; Lenzing-approved tencel; Europe's Liberty Fabric Organic Cotton, printed eco-friendly in Italy; natural tree-rubber elastics; Oeko-tex certified hooks & eyes; and carbon-efficient labels using Eco Passport Oeko-Tex inks. Garments arrive in recyclable tissue paper. Mailers are compostable or recyclable, with a shift to all compostable on the horizon. Beauty, fit, and sustainability combined. The Very Good Bra 43. Ettitude bedding and bath essentials Bamboo is the most resource efficient plant on earth. Ettitude's Clean Bamboo is sourced from FSC-certified sustainable forests and made in a non-toxic, closed-loop system that recycles 98% of water. Compared to a cotton sheet set, our signature sheet set: Uses 500x less water. That's enough to save 30,998 litres—as much as 93 Americans use in a day. Produces 52% fewer carbon emissions, saving 25.9kg—the equivalent to driving 103 kilometers. Ettitude is a Climate Neutral certified company. They measure, reduce and offset all of the carbon it takes to make and deliver every ettitude product. + Everyday items for the Eco Warrior: Where to find the best eco friendly products to reduce plastic waste

The single most important issue facing modern humanity is climate change. We've all seen the evidence in our climate and in disturbing images from across the globe all over the news. The question is: what can we do about it? The key to tackling climate change is both macro and micro. It's important that we, as individuals, take up the cause just as strongly as governments and corporations could and should. That's where Onya and our reusable products come in. We understand what it means to live responsibly in a modern world and apply those principles to all aspects of our business and in our daily lives. In order to make the changes we want to see happen, we know the key to success is finding ways of adjusting your habits in a way that complements your current lifestyle. Habits won't stick if they require a drastic change in behaviour so Onya began with a simple mission; Create innovative, environmentally friendly solutions that easily fit into your life. We are here to bring you solutions that make a difference, right to your doorstep. Australian based Onya has been offering the world innovative solutions to single use plastic waste since 2004. What is the problem? How do we fix it? The big problem, as we all know, is the long-term increase of the Earth's temperature. We humans have been wreaking havoc on our atmosphere for a long time, and now our chickens are well and truly home to roost. Plastic is littering our oceans; our landfill is land-filled, and we throw away more and more each year. We can all lessen our impact with a simple approach. The six 'R's we live our lives by are: Refuse, Reduce, Reuse, Repair, Recycle and Rot. If we can try and keep these principles in mind when making daily decisions, then we can start making a positive impact on our surroundings. Onya goes that one step further. We are a B Corp certified company which, put plainly, means we have an obligation to meet the very highest of social and environmental standards. B Corps balance their profit with their purpose so that you, the consumer, know that your dollars do good. We partner with only those who match our ethical commitments to ensure that we bring you products manufactured the right way. Ethically made in China, our produce ranges are made by companies whose values echo our own and we have been working with them for many years. Every partner we work with is approved as socially and environmentally conscious. We prioritise proper workers' rights, community impact, environmental credentials and, of course, you, our customer. Shop Onya Products To say plastic pollution is a widespread problem is not doing it justice: Only about 9% of all plastic ever made has likely been recycled with 12% of all plastic waste having been incinerated. The remaining 79% has accumulated in either landfill or the natural environment if not still in use. 9% of all plastic ever made has likely been recycled One million seabirds and 100,000 marine mammals die each year from plastic pollution in our oceans. plastic pollution In one study by the U.S. Centres for Disease Control, nearly 93 percent of people tested positive for BPA (a potentially harmful chemical present in plastic products). 93 percent of people tested positive for BPA Think the problem is too big for you to make an impact? you Think again. We put together this list of eco friendly products to show you just how easy it can be to replace some of the plastic products you buy and support those making products out of recycled plastic. By replacing them, you can virtually eliminate your single use plastic waste in that area. By purchasing recycled plastic products you are helping to close the loop of the circular economy. eco friendly products One of the best ways to fight plastic pollution is to live by example and ensure the products you buy are produced with both ethics and the environment in mind. live by example Also, don't forget to share the journey with your friends and family. The more friends you convince, the more people you share articles like this one with, the more people will begin using environmentally friendly products in their everyday lives, and that is how we change the world. that is how we change the world Scroll down to see where you can make some simple changes with eco-friendly products that can have big impacts on your environmental footprint.

2. Vegan Leather Tote Some of the world's top fashion houses are now replacing animal leathers with vegan leathers made from fruit. Many people believe the leather industry is a by-product of the meat industry, but it's not. Most leather is processed in countries where there are little or no welfare laws for animals (or humans that make the leather, who are often subjected to toxic chemicals from the tanning process, which then go into the water supplies, and harm marine wildlife too). This apple skin tote is a vibrant beautiful urban shopper, which is lightweight but strong enough to hold a laptop. apple skin tote vegan leathers (made from fruit!) - blessed earth gifts

3. Toilet Paper Who Gives a Crap? sells extra-cushy 3-ply bamboo bathroom tissue in colourful paper packs. The co-founder (after learning that 800 children under 5 die daily from diseases caused by poor water and sanitation) decided to set this company up with his friends, donating 50% of profits to provide clean sanitation in developing countries. For the crowdfunding campaign, he sat on a toilet in their draughty warehouse and refused to move, until they raised enough pre-orders to start production. It took 50 hours, but they did it! Every minute, around the globe, humans purchase a staggering one million plastic bottles. This vast consumption isn't only financially costly with bottled water being an expensive choice, but it also exacts a terrible toll on our environment. Beyond the environmental impact, plastic and aluminum bottles pose potential health risks, often due to chemicals like BPA that can seep into your water. Drinking enough water is essential for our well-being. But how you choose to drink it matters. The Onya Stainless Steel Drink Bottle stands out as a beacon of sustainable and healthy hydration. Made from food-grade 304 stainless steel - the trusted material within the food and beverage industries - our bottles are built without the need for linings and will never retain or leach flavours. Regardless of the number of refills or the beverage choice, your drink remains fresh and delightful. The design of our drink bottle takes into consideration both function and form. Its curved ergonomic design ensures a comfortable grip, reducing the chances of slips. Yet, even if it does encounter a fall, the bottle's engineering is crafted to withstand common impacts. Crafted from the thickest possible grade of stainless steel, it offers durability without the burden of weight, aiming to serve you for years to come. Drinkware - Onya 26. Oceanzen Every year around 640, 000 tonnes of 'ghost fishing gear' enter our ocean and become adrift. These can stay in the ocean for up to 600 years and are the silent killers of our marine life. Whales, seals, sharks, dolphins, turtles and so many more precious marine species are subject to suffocation and slow, painful deaths. In 2014, Oceanzen pioneered the use of a revolutionary fabric that supports the removal of marine debris from our oceans. They manufacture sustainable swimwear made of nylon waste such as recycled plastic bottles and fishing nets that have been recovered from our oceans and recycled. By regenerating waste, they're not only making it new again but saving a whole heap of precious, finite resources and energy whilst also reducing carbon emissions. OceanZen 42. We've all seen the evidence in our climate and in disturbing images from across the globe all over the news. The question is: what can we do about it? The key to tackling climate change is both macro and micro. It's important that we, as individuals, take up the cause just as strongly as governments and corporations could and should. That's where Onya and our reusable products come in. We understand what it means to live responsibly in a modern world and apply those principles to all aspects of our business and in our daily lives. In order to make the changes we want to see happen, we know the key to success is finding ways of adjusting your habits in a way that complements your current lifestyle. Habits won't stick if they require a drastic change in behaviour so Onya began with a simple mission; Create innovative, environmentally friendly solutions that easily fit into your life. We are here to bring you solutions that make a difference, right to your doorstep. Australian based Onya has been offering the world innovative solutions to single use plastic waste since 2004. What is the problem? How do we fix it? The big problem, as we all know, is the long-term increase of the Earth's temperature. We humans have been wreaking havoc on our atmosphere for a long time, and now our chickens are well and truly home to roost. Plastic is littering our oceans; our landfill is land-filled, and we throw away more and more each year. We can all lessen our impact with a simple approach. The six 'R's we live our lives by are: Refuse, Reduce, Reuse, Repair, Recycle and Rot. If we can try and keep these principles in mind when making daily decisions, then we can start making a positive impact on our surroundings. Onya goes that one step further. We are a B Corp certified company which, put plainly, means we have an obligation to meet the very highest of social and environmental standards. B Corps balance their profit with their purpose so that you, the consumer, know that your dollars do good. We partner with only those who match our ethical commitments to ensure that we bring you products manufactured the right way. Ethically made in China, our produce ranges are made by companies whose values echo our own and we have been working with them for many years. Every partner we work with is approved as socially and environmentally conscious. We prioritise proper workers' rights, community impact, environmental credentials and, of course, you, our customer.
